This Handbook is provided for general information purposes only and should not be relied upon as legal advice pertaining to any specific situation.

Welcome to RAB's 2015-2016 Political Handbook for the Radio Account Executive, a comprehensive, understandable, non-legal guide to navigating through the complexities of today's political advertising landscape.

This new edition of the Handbook has been prepared exclusively for the Radio Advertising Bureau by Erwin G. Krasnow and Brad Deutsch of Garvey Schubert Barer and John Wells King of the Law Office of John Wells King, PLLC. Their work to compile this important information once again for RAB's members and associates is greatly appreciated.

Political analysts are projecting "blockbuster" political ad spending to reach record levels in 2016, with candidates for the U.S. Presidency, Congressional, and State offices geared to spend heavily through the primary season and for the General Election.

Radio's many on-air formats and complementary digital platforms offer excellent targeting opportunities as candidates, PACs and SuperPACs vie to connect with voters. It's time to be pro-active as you begin to pursue available funds at your local and state levels now.

This Handbook is presented to you as an RAB member benefit to help you capitalize on this exceptional revenue opportunity.

Best,

A Quick Guide To The Handbook

The Political Advertising Handbook will help you at every stage of the political advertising sales process.

- Read it to gain a working overview of the essential concepts of political advertising.
- Consult it to evaluate compliance with FCC and FEC requirements.
- Use it in day-to-day dealings with political advertisers.

Here's how to get up-to-speed quickly:

If you're new to the world of political advertising, skim Part B Political Advertising: A High-Altitude Survey, to identify the major subject areas. Then consult Part I Statutes and Rules on Candidate Appearances & Advertising, for a more in-depth review of the principles and law of political advertising.

If you need to review and evaluate how well your house is in order, get out Part C Pre-Election Political Advertising Compliance Checklist, then use Part D Internal Political Advertising Checklist (Pre-Buy, Buy & Post-Buy) and Part G Political File Checklist, and, finally, consult Part H Sample Political Disclosure Statement.

If you've "been there, done that," go straight to Part D Internal Political Advertising Checklist (Pre-Buy, Buy & Post-Buy).

If you've received a request for time, print a copy of Part E BCRA Political Record for each request for time, along with Part F Certification of Federal Candidate Responsibility if the request came from a federal candidate. You should also consult, and use Part D Internal Political Advertising Checklist (Pre-Buy, Buy & Post-Buy).

Political Advertising: A High-Altitude Survey

Political Advertising: A High-Altitude Survey

State and federal laws regulate political advertising – on radio and television, in print, and on the internet.

Here is an outline of basic legal concepts and principles drawn from regulations administered by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and the Federal Election Commission (FEC). Bear these in mind when dealing with candidates for public office. Beware: this overview touches only the high points of the federal law of political advertising. You will need to contact counsel for help with particular situations in this complex area of law.

Major Subject Areas: The Big Three

Much of the law of political advertising falls into three major subject areas:

- lowest unit charge
- reasonable access
- equal opportunities

These requirements apply only to the “use” (which is a term-of-art defined below) of a station by a legally qualified candidate for public office. They do not apply to “issue” advertising, nor do they apply to internet advertising sold by a broadcast station.

A “use” is any positive appearance of a candidate airing for four seconds or more, whose voice or likeness is either identified or is readily identifiable in the broadcast material.

Lowest unit charge and equal opportunities requirements apply to candidates for all public offices (federal and non-federal). Reasonable access is a right enjoyed only by federal candidates.

Because non-federal candidates do not have a right of reasonable access to a station, broadcasters have much more latitude in setting political advertising policy for such candidates than for federal candidates. Broadcasters can limit the number of spots. They can decline altogether to offer political advertising to races for selected non-federal offices, although as public trustees, broadcasters should consider allowing some access for major races such as governor or mayor.

Here is a closer look at these and other subject areas of political advertising.

Lowest Unit Charge

During the 45 days prior to a primary and the 60 days prior to a general election (the pre-election “window”), all candidates to whom broadcast time is sold are entitled to the lowest unit charge of the station for the class, amount of time, and time period they wish to purchase.

Candidates are entitled to the benefits of a package or volume discount without having to purchase the entire package or buy in volume. Candidates can pick the spots within packages and receive the volume discount with the purchase of only one spot.

To determine the lowest unit charge for each class of time offered, you should review every package, promotion, or contract that will air during a pre-election window. Your review should include sales of unsold or remnant spot inventory through the internet or other means, and whether at a set price or auction.

The lowest amount shown in the contract for a type of spot will determine the lowest unit charge for that class of time. Be sure to assign a value to every spot within a given contract at the time it is entered into, including bonus spots, or otherwise zero-value bonus spots may cause your lowest unit charge for an entire class of spots to be valued at zero.

Note that even if none of the bonus spots airs during a pre-election window, the lowest unit charge is affected by the bonus spots if any portion of the contract airs during a pre-election window.

Exceptions: Spots placed by third party committees not “authorized” by a candidate are not entitled to the lowest unit charge even if the candidate appears in the spot. Also, spots sold to noncommercial advertisers generally do not count in calculating the lowest unit charge, including bonus spots provided to a nonprofit organization as part of a paid-for spot package.

Federal Candidate Certification for Lowest Unit Charge

For federal candidates to be entitled to receive a station’s lowest unit charge, they must provide the station with a written certification that the advertisement or programming will not refer to an opposing candidate unless the advertising or programming also includes a specific audio statement by the candidate personally identifying himself and the office he is seeking, and stating that the candidate has approved the broadcast.

Comparable Rates

A candidate for any public office buying time outside a pre-election window is entitled to comparable rates on the station (i.e., what an ordinary commercial advertiser would pay for the same class, amount, and period of time).

The FEC prescribes a “comparable rate” requirement for print media. A question exists whether that requirement would be extended to internet advertising. The FEC has not addressed this issue.

Commissionable Rates

A candidate for any public office who buys time through an advertising agency may be charged a rate that includes the agency commission. A candidate must be allowed to buy time directly from a station and a candidate who does buy time directly may not be charged the commissionable rate.

Station Rep Commissions

Unlike an advertising agency commission, a station representative's commission is treated like employee compensation and should not be deducted from a station's lowest unit charge.

Network Buys

Commercial time purchased by advertisers on the station as part of a network buy (wired or unwired) may impact the network's own lowest unit charge but is not considered in calculating an individual station's lowest unit charge. The station is still responsible, however, for compliance with any other political programming rules that might apply for these network spots.

Internet Sales Programs

It is uncertain whether purchases of commercial time by advertisers through sales programs offered on the internet such as Bid4Spots fall under the prior FCC rulings regarding network buys and, therefore, would not be considered in setting the lowest unit charge. Due to this uncertainty, in 2007 the state broadcasting associations sought a declaratory ruling from the FCC. The request is pending at this writing.

Billboards and Sponsorship

Stations need not take billboards, promotional incentives (e.g., coffee mugs), or program sponsorships into account when calculating the lowest unit charge and need not make such incentives available to candidates if they are de minimis or if they would reasonably imply a station endorsement of the candidate.

Time Brokerage

Generally, rates charged by a time broker for programming formats that are different from what is offered by the station itself would not affect an individual station's lowest unit charge. Once a broker sells time to candidates, however, the station is obligated to provide equal opportunities (see below) to the candidate's opponents. If a broker refuses to honor an opponent's request for equal opportunities, the station must satisfy the equal opportunities request, and must do so at the station's lowest unit charge. In any event, the station may charge the candidate no more than the time broker charged the initial candidate. To avoid complications and potential rebate issues, it would be best to discuss political advertising and lowest unit charge with a time broker in advance of a campaign season. The station is also still responsible for compliance with any other political programming rules that might apply for the spots sold by a broker.

Credit Policy

A station may not treat candidates seeking credit any differently than it treats similarly situated commercial advertisers. A station that requires cash in advance from a new commercial advertiser may require the same from a newly-formed campaign committee. Conversely, if station extends credit to all commercial advertisers without evaluating an advertiser's financial situation, the station must do the same for candidates. Generally, stations may not require cash in advance from federal candidates more than seven days before the first spot airs.

Political advertising contracts for federal candidates that are not entered into for cash up-front may cause problems down the road. If the contract is not paid and the broadcaster ultimately writes off the debt, the write-off could be construed as a campaign contribution that may violate FEC law.

News Access

Stations do not have to allow candidates for political office to buy spots during the news. If a station does not permit candidates to buy during the news, but the station does offer a news adjacency class of time, federal candidates must be permitted access to news adjacencies. In that event, the lowest unit charge for a candidate who buys during the news adjacency cannot be higher than what the lowest unit charge would be for a spot during the news.

Legally Qualified Candidates Only

Access to a broadcast station, to the station's lowest unit charge, and to equal opportunities, extends only to legally-qualified candidates. The burden of proving that a candidate is legally-qualified is on the candidate or the candidate's representative. If a station questions the bona fides of a candidate, the candidate must provide proof that he or she is qualified under that state's law.

Reasonable Access

The Communications Act requires licensees of commercial stations to provide federal candidates with "reasonable access" to a broadcast station. Thus, stations may not turn away candidates running for federal offices (President, Senate, House of Representatives) and must provide them with some access in all dayparts. Stations may decline to carry ads for local and state races (e.g., city council or county clerk) because candidates for those races have no statutory right to reasonable access. Access for significant non-federal races (e.g., governor) should be considered under the general public interest standard, however.

No Blanket Prohibition and Non-Standard Lengths

Commercial stations may not have blanket prohibitions on the number of spots federal candidates may purchase or the time slots in which they may purchase time. Nevertheless, a station does not need to provide the spot time a candidate requests or the exact schedule the candidate demands. The touchstone is whether the station has provided the federal candidate reasonable access. Whether the station has provided reasonable access will depend on all the facts and circumstances concerning the candidate's request for access, the station's efforts to provide such access, and the particular race in which the candidate is involved.

Although not required, if stations decide to carry ads for local and state races, they may limit the number of spots local and state candidates may purchase, and may limit political advertising for local and state candidates to given day parts or rotations.

Broadcasters may not automatically reject “non-standard length” commercials (e.g., five minutes) for federal candidates. Broadcasters must balance the following factors against the request when evaluating each request for time made by a federal candidate, including time of non-standard length:

- 1 how much time was previously sold to the candidate;
- 2 the potentially disruptive impact on the station’s regular programming;
- 3 the likelihood of equal opportunity requests by opposing candidates; and
- 4 the timing of the request.

The second factor cannot dominate the analysis to the exclusion of the other factors. The FCC has said that “broadcasters must cite a realistic danger of substantial program disruption – perhaps caused by insufficient notice to allow adjustments in the schedule – or of an excessive number of equal time requests.”

The FCC will generally defer to a licensee’s discretion, and will overturn a decision only if the licensee has acted unreasonably pursuant to established station guidelines. In determining whether a licensee has afforded reasonable access, the FCC will take into consideration the number of other candidates for the federal office who might assert their right to “equal opportunities” and “reasonable access.”

Presidential Candidate Access

To be entitled to reasonable access to a station, a candidate for nomination for President must either make a substantial showing of candidacy or must be on the ballot in the state in which access to a station is sought. Even if the candidate is not on the ballot in the state in which access is sought or has not made a substantial showing in the state, the candidate is entitled to access if the candidate is either on the ballot in at least ten states (including DC), has made a substantial showing of candidacy in ten states (including DC), or is on the ballot in a neighboring state that falls within the station’s principal service area (i.e., 1 mV/m contour for FM, 0.5 mV/m for AM).

Noncommercial Stations

Noncommercial educational broadcast stations do not have to provide reasonable access to federal candidates. If they do allow access to a candidate, then they must comply with the equal opportunity rule for all other candidates for that particular office.

Equal Opportunities – When Do They Arise?

Generally, whenever there is a candidate “use” (i.e., “any positive appearance”) on a station, the appearance creates an equal opportunity for the candidate’s opponent to “use” the station for the same amount of time to reach a similarly sized audience. This is true regardless of whether the candidate’s appearance is made explicitly to advance his or her candidacy, and regardless of whether the appearance is controlled, sponsored or approved by the candidate. For example, a candidate’s appearance as a host or an anchor of a news program would be considered a “use” and any legally-qualified opponent of the candidate may assert an equal opportunity right to appear on the station.

When to Assert?

Legally qualified opponents must assert their equal opportunities within seven days of the “use” by the first candidate. As a result, it is critical that the station record any candidate “use” of the station by immediately placing a notice in the station’s political file. Beyond placing a record in the station’s political file, however, the station has no obligation to advise opposing candidates of their right to assert equal opportunities.

No Censorship

With very limited exceptions, the Communications Act prohibits a station from censoring any “use” of the station by a legally qualified candidate. Accordingly a station may not alter or remove a candidate spot even if the ad is possibly defamatory or violates someone else’s copyright. The station is, however, automatically protected from any liability associated with the content of a candidate ad. The no-censorship provision applies only to ads purchased by candidates and their authorized committees.

Exempt Appearances

Bona fide newscasts, news interviews, news documentaries (where a candidate’s appearance is incidental), and on-the-spot coverage of news events are exempt from the equal opportunities requirements. A candidate’s appearance as a guest or as the subject of news coverage in these programs is not a “use,” and thus does not trigger equal opportunity obligations.

No Discrimination

Stations may not discriminate among opposing candidates at any time. Although candidates for the same race must receive the same treatment, stations may treat different non-federal races differently, such as offering more time to the mayor’s race, and no time to the school board race.

Stations that sell internet advertising in combination with broadcasting contracts should be prepared to offer internet advertising space to all candidates for a public office, if space is sold to one candidate for that office.

Disclaimers and Recordkeeping

Two other areas of detailed regulation by the FCC and the FEC affect political advertising practices – disclaimers and recordkeeping.

Disclaimers are required for broadcast advertising and for internet advertising.

Both the FCC and the FEC require broadcasters to maintain specific records of political advertising.

Disclaimers – Look Who’s Talking

The FCC and the FEC each prescribe elements of a required disclosure for a political advertisement. There are separate and specific requirements for broadcast and for internet advertising. The FCC’s rule flows from the sponsorship identification requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which is based on the principle that the listener is entitled to know the identity of the person whose views are being expressed. For political advertising, additional disclaimer requirements were enacted as part of the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002 (BCRA).

Sponsor Identification

A complete sponsorship identification must be included in each advertisement a station broadcasts. Stations may insert the sponsorship ID into any advertisement that fails to include it even if the insertion causes the spot to be modified. (This is an exception to the “no-censorship provision” discussed earlier.) If time prohibits pre-broadcast review, the licensee may air the spot without the proper identification for that very first airing, so long as the sponsorship ID is added before the next airing. The identification must appear at the beginning or end of any sponsored political program five minutes or less, and both places if programming is longer.

“Paid for By Friends of...”

A sponsorship ID is insufficient unless it fully and fairly discloses the true identity of the person, corporation, committee, association, or other unincorporated group that paid for the advertisement. “Friends of” could suggest a loosely-knit group of people, not necessarily an organized entity. Such an identification may not satisfy the rule, even if that is the official registered name of the entity. In addition, the person or entity identified as the sponsor must be the one paying to buy the time. Stations need not be private investigators, but where a strong circumstantial case is presented that someone other than the named sponsor is the true sponsor an ad, the station should use reasonable diligence to confirm that the sponsor identified is truly the entity that purchased the spot.

Sponsorship ID Requirements for Federal Candidates

The BCRA requires radio spots by federal candidates that refer to their opponent to include an audio statement by the candidate identifying himself/herself and the office sought, and stating that the candidate approved the broadcast. A federal candidate is not entitled to the lowest unit charge, and could lose the entitlement to the lowest unit charge for the remainder of the election, unless he or she both certifies compliance and actually complies with these requirements.

Internet Advertising

The FEC’s federal campaign regulations extend to paid internet advertising. Political advertising on the internet must be accompanied by a disclaimer similar to disclaimers required in print advertisements.

The regulations affect commercial website advertising sold by broadcasters, regardless whether it is sold in conjunction with the sale of broadcast time. The regulations apply to all forms of website advertising, such as banner advertisements, streaming video, pop-up advertisements, and directed search results.

Internet Advertising Defined

“Public communications” require a disclaimer under FEC regulations. A communication placed on another person’s website for a fee by an individual, political committee, labor organization, or corporation, is a “public communication,” and therefore requires a disclaimer.

Requirements of Disclaimer

If the communication is paid for and authorized by a candidate, or his/her authorized committee or agent, it must clearly state that the communication was paid for by the authorized political committee.

If the communication is authorized by the candidate, but is paid for by any other person, the disclaimer must clearly state that the communication is paid for by such other person and is authorized by the candidate.

If the communication is not authorized by the candidate, the disclaimer must clearly state the full name and permanent street address, telephone number, or World Wide Web address of the person who paid for the communication, and that the communication is not authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee.

The disclaimer must be clearly readable. Twelve-point type size is sufficient. It must be contained in a printed box set apart from the other contents of the communication. It must have a reasonable degree of color contrast.

Responsibility for Posting

The responsibility for posting a disclaimer is on the person or entity purchasing the advertising. It is not the responsibility of the website operator. Nevertheless, a familiarity with FEC requirements in this area and the ability to evaluate whether internet advertising complies with them, reduces the risk of involvement in a complaint or enforcement action against the advertiser.

Sample Disclaimers

Here are three examples of the types of disclaimers the FEC requires to be posted with commercial website advertising on the internet for federal elections and candidates.

Authorized and paid for by a candidate:

This communication was paid for by The Elect Joe Doaks to Congress Committee.

Authorized but not paid for by a candidate:

This communication was paid for by Citizens for Congressman Doaks, and is authorized by The Elect Joe Doaks to Congress Committee.

Not authorized and not paid for by a candidate:

This communication was paid for by John Doe, 1234 First Street, Anytown, Anystate, 876-555-1212 [www.johndoe.name], and is not authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee.

Recordkeeping and Disclosure Statements

Political File

Each station must maintain a political file in its local public inspection file. The political file must contain all requests for time made by or on behalf of a candidate for political office, together with a notation showing the licensee's disposition of the request, the rates quoted or charged (including gifts of time), the date and time on which the spots were aired, the class of time that was purchased and any rebates. The political file must also contain all requests for time by a non-candidate to advertise any political matter of national importance (e.g., ads related to a legally qualified candidate, an election to Federal office, or a national legislative issue of public importance).

In addition to disposition of the request and details of the time sales order, the record must show the name of the candidate to which the advertising refers, the office the candidate is seeking, and the election or issue to which the ad refers. If the request is from a candidate, the record must include the name of the candidate's authorized political committee and the name of the committee's treasurer. If the request is from anyone else, the record must show the name of the person/sponsor making the request, along with the name, address, and phone number of a sponsor contact person, and a list of the chief executive officers or similar officials.

Information should be placed in the file as soon as possible (i.e., immediately) after a request for political time. The NAB Agreement Form for Political Candidate Advertisements, Form PB-18, should be completed for each purchase of time.

Although not required as of this writing in July 2015, the FCC has a pending rulemaking to migrate radio station public files, including the political file, to the internet. It is possible that a new online public file requirement may become effective at some point during the 2015-2016 election cycle.

Political Disclosure Statements

Stations must disclose material rates and terms of advertising to candidates. The best way to ensure compliance with the requirement is to prepare a political disclosure statement. It should contain a description of each class of time available to commercial advertisers, a description of the lowest unit charge and related privileges for each such class of time, a description of the station's method of selling pre-emptible time based upon advertiser demand (i.e., selling level), an approximation of the likelihood of preemption for each kind of pre-emptible time class, and an explanation of the station's sales practices if based on audience delivery. The political disclosure statement must be provided upon a request on behalf of a candidate for advertising availabilities for political advertising. There is a Sample Political Disclosure Statement in Part H.

Other Political Advertising Issues

The legal and regulatory arena of political advertising includes these additional items:

Issue Advertising

Issue advertising is not entitled to the lowest unit charge. Issue spots must contain the proper sponsorship identification, and a list of officers of the sponsor must be placed in the local public inspection file. Stations should carefully review issue ads sponsored by an entity other than a candidate's authorized committee. If such ads include a positive appearance by a candidate (i.e., a "use"), they will trigger opposing candidates' rights to "equal opportunities," and must therefore be noted in the station's political file. For additional recordkeeping rules for any political matter of national importance, see Political File above.

Indecent Material

Unless a broadcaster determines that a candidate spot is indecent, the "no-censorship provision" of the Communications Act prevents a station from channeling the spot to the indecency "safe harbor." Of course, a broadcaster may always channel or reject outright an issue ad. Broadcasters may also precede either a political spot or an issue ad with a neutrally worded viewer advisory that the program's graphic content may be disturbing to children.

Political Editorials and Personal Attacks

The FCC formerly had rules outlining broadcasters' responsibilities when broadcasting an editorial in support of or against a candidate for public office, or when an attack was made on a person or group's honesty, character or integrity. The rules were struck down in 2000 by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Quasi-Equal Opportunities (The "Zapple" Doctrine)

When a station sells or gives time during a campaign to a supporter, such as an independent political committee or spokespersons of a candidate, the "quasi-equal opportunities" doctrine previously required the licensee to afford comparable time to the spokesperson or supporters for an opponent. The doctrine came to be known as the Zapple Doctrine, named for the Chief Counsel of the Senate Communications Subcommittee, Nicholas Zapple, who sought a ruling from the FCC on the subject.

The Zapple Doctrine was an outgrowth of the Fairness Doctrine, which the Commission repealed in 1987. In 2014, the FCC staff issued two separate opinions concluding that the Zapple Doctrine has "no current legal effect."

Caveat

Political advertising has become an increasingly complex area of the law, especially in view of similar (but different) regulations by the FCC and the FEC, the BCRA overhaul of campaign spending laws, the gloss placed on those laws by the courts, and the constant of technological change. The laws and rules applicable to political advertising should be revisited and reviewed throughout the political season to ensure ongoing compliance.

Pre-Election Political Advertising Compliance Checklist

Pre-Election Political Advertising Compliance Checklist

The following is a checklist of steps which might be taken prior to a primary, general or special election to make sure that your station complies with the FCC's political broadcasting laws:

The Political File

Review your station's political file.

- the file must contain all requests for free and paid political time and their disposition, including the schedule of the time provided or purchased, the dates and specific times the spots actually aired, the rates charged, the classes of time purchased, the length of each spot, and documentation of any rebates provided, including the amount and date of the rebate. Under the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002, a record of requests for non-candidate-sponsored advertising on any political matter of national importance must also be kept.
- the political file does not need to contain, and should not contain, any information regarding the purchase of internet advertising. There is no need to make this information publicly available.

Make sure that the records in the file are maintained in an "orderly" manner so that they may be easily accessed.

Purge the political file of any records over two years old which are not the subject of a pending dispute.

Instruct station personnel to permit access to the political file upon request by candidates, their representatives and members of the public, and to place all records required to be placed in the political file as soon as possible (i.e., immediately, absent special circumstances).

- Requests and dispositions of requests for political time must be available for public inspection and copying during normal business hours in accordance with the FCC's public file rules. This would likely change, of course, if the FCC does adopt a rule requiring radio stations to maintain public files online.

Political Rate Disclosure Statements

Make sure that your station's political rate disclosure forms contain the following information:

- A description/definition of each class of time available to commercial advertisers sufficiently detailed to allow candidates to identify and understand the specific attributes of each class of time.

- The lowest unit charge or “comparable” rate charged or estimated to be charged for each class of time. “Comparable” rates are those normally available to commercial advertisers outside the 60-day (general election) and 45-day (pre-election) lowest unit charge windows.
- A description of your station’s method of selling preemptible time - e.g., grid, demand-driven “current selling levels,” fluctuating levels, etc. (candidates must be able to purchase preemptible time at these demand-generated rates on the same basis as commercial advertisers).
- Preemption likelihood - an approximation of the likelihood of preemption for each class of preemptible time.
- Sales practices that affect rates including audience delivery guarantee arrangements and preemption priorities.
- Make good policy (the FCC defines “make goods” for this purpose as spots which are rescheduled as a result of technical difficulty or preemption).
- Discounts and value-added privileges, if any.
- Rotations (all rotations offered to commercial advertisers must be offered to federal candidates).
- Optional:
Any other information which might be of value to candidates (e.g., the station’s policy concerning the production of candidate spots or programs, acceptance of material which does not contain proper sponsorship identification, procedure for ordering spots, internet advertising rates, policies and procedures, etc.).

Provide a copy of your station’s political rate disclosure forms to your national reps and make sure that your rep provides the necessary disclosures to candidates (a station remains ultimately responsible for making these disclosures).

Attach a copy of the station’s political rate disclosure forms to any avail sheets provided to political candidates (it is important to keep written records of when and to which candidates disclosure statements have been provided).

Advertising Rates and Policies

Prepare a memo evidencing your station’s credit policy (such a policy might state that credit will not be extended for the advertising of one-time events or to advertisers who contemplate terminating operations within one year; keep in mind that a station cannot insist on payment more than seven days in advance from federal candidates).

Review “make good” activity of your station during the preceding 12 months (a station must provide make goods to candidates before the election if it has provided time-sensitive make goods to any commercial advertiser purchasing the same class of time during the 12 months preceding the election).

Allocate rates in pre-existing packages (the rates of all spots in packages must be allocated for lowest unit charge purposes). Such an allocation must be made on the contract, on the invoice or in a separate, contemporaneous document that is kept with the contract but need not be made publicly available. The allocation must be made when the contract is entered.

Access

Review weekend sales order activity of the station during the preceding 12 months (a station or its sales personnel must be open or available for federal candidate business the weekend before an election only if the station has been similarly open or available for any other advertising in the year prior to the election).

Review the FCC's rules and policies on mandatory "reasonable access" for federal candidates and adopt, for in-house use by station staff, a station policy on access for federal candidates and their supporters. For example, a station may adopt a policy of refusing to sell advertising time during all news programs, some news programs, or during any portion of a specific news program.

Decide whether you will make your facilities available to candidates for nonfederal offices. (Stations are not required to sell any advertising to candidates for nonfederal offices, but once a station does sell spots to one candidate in a nonfederal race, the station must provide "equal opportunities" to all opposing candidates who make a timely request.)

- Determine what your criteria will be for making such time available (for example, the importance of the office, public interest in the campaign, the number of candidates and the amount of time likely to be requested).

Getting Your "House in Order"

Review the current edition (as of this writing, the 18th Edition) of the NAB Political Broadcast Catechism, and be sure your station's sales staff, who will be handling political buys, is familiar with the political broadcasting regulations and has copies of documents required to purchase time (e.g., the latest edition of the NAB Political Broadcast Agreement Forms (as of this writing, PB-18).

Obtain an up-to-date copy of your state's election laws (such laws may have special provisions governing sponsorship identification and campaign spending which will impact your operations).

Review the station's rate listings that may have been published, to make certain they are current.

Establish a procedure for (a) the weekly review of logs and other records and (b) the provision of rebates on a timely basis.

Internal Political Advertising Checklist

(Pre-Buy, Buy, And Post-Buy)

- Determine station's lowest unit charge during the applicable 45-day pre-primary period or the 60-day pre-election window, taking into account any normal seasonal rate adjustments that may occur
- Prepare memo evidencing the station's credit policy (such a policy might state that credit will not be extended for the advertising of one-time events or to advertisers who contemplate terminating operations within one year)
- Instruct National Rep on disclosure requirements (provide Rep with a copy of the station's Political Disclosure Statement)
- Review "make good" activity of the station during the preceding 12 months
- Review weekend sales order activity of the station during the preceding 12 months
- Establish weekly log review/rebate procedure
- Allocate rates in pre-existing packages (the rates of all spots in packages must be allocated for lowest unit charge purposes; the allocation must be made on the contract, on the invoice, or in a separate, contemporaneous document that is kept with the contract)

Buy

Sample Disclosure Statement Regarding Political Sales Practices for Radio Stations

[NOTE: The sample statement needs to be customized to describe how your station sells time. Note especially terms in brackets and in bold face.]

STATION [CALL LETTERS]

POLITICAL ADVERTISING DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

EFFECTIVE ON AND AFTER [DATE]

The following practices apply to purchases of advertising time on radio stations for any “use” by legally-qualified candidates for public office (i.e., any positive appearance of a candidate airing for four seconds or more, whose voice is either identified or is readily identifiable). In order to qualify for this treatment, candidates or their representatives may be asked to demonstrate that they are legally-qualified. This Disclosure Statement is provided for general information as required by the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”), and is not intended to be a part of any advertising sales contract, which is governed by applicable law and its own terms. Practices described herein are subject to change at the Station’s discretion, to the extent permitted by law.

Legally qualified federal candidates are entitled to purchase time on the Station during their election campaigns. The Station will consider all requests for such time and will make reasonable accommodations to meet such requests. Although a federal candidate has the right to “reasonable access” to the facilities of the Station for the airing of political advertisements, the Station generally retains the right to limit the amount of time sold to a candidate and has ultimate discretion with respect to the specific placement of political advertisements. The Station will grant access to specified state and local candidates based, in the Station’s sole discretion, on the public interest in the election and inventory [modify as appropriate for your station]. For a determination as to whether the Station will make time available for sale for certain local or state races, see Station Contact below.

During the 45 days preceding a primary election and the 60 days before a general election, the Station charges candidates in the respective elections the “lowest unit charge” for an advertisement if the advertisement constitutes a “use” of the Station’s facilities, as defined by the FCC. During any time outside of the 45-day and 60-day periods, the charges for candidate-purchased advertisements constituting a “use” are set so as to be no higher than those normally charged other advertisers for comparable use of the Station’s facilities. Any political advertisement that is not a “use,” including any advertisement purchased by a non-candidate or any advertisement dealing with non-candidate ballot issues, is sold at prevailing commercial rates. If a political advertisement constitutes a “use,” the Station will provide opposing candidates with “equal opportunities,” as established by federal law, to “use” the facilities of the Station. No federal candidate will be entitled to receive the Station’s lowest unit charge unless the candidate provides the Station with a certification that the candidate will not make any direct reference to another candidate for the same office in any broadcast unless the broadcast complies with §315(b)(2)(D) of the Communications Act, as amended by the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002.

The terms and conditions applicable to political advertising on the Station are as follows:

1. Rates. The Station sells 30-second spots from 6 AM to Midnight as reflected on the attached rate card [modify as appropriate for your station]. Most rates for both commercial and political advertising time sold on the Station are arrived at on an individually negotiated basis. Negotiated buys may, for example, include spots in a number of different rotations or dayparts and combinations of different classes of spots. Rates for most classes of time vary on a [daily/weekly] basis, based on supply and demand. The classes of advertising time offered to commercial advertisers are:
 - a. Immediately Preemptible Spots Aired During Specific Rotations
[for any preemptible class of spot, provide percentage estimate of chance of clearing]
 - b. Fixed-Position Spots
 - c. ROS (Run-of-Schedule) Spots

2. Sponsorship Identification. All ads must comply with the sponsorship identification requirements of § 317 of the Communications Act and § 73.1212 of the FEC's rules. The Station reserves the right to insert such sponsorship identification into any advertisement that fails to include the requisite identification even if the insertion of the identification causes a portion of the advertisement to be deleted. For a federal candidate to receive the lowest unit charge for the class of time purchased, all ads that refer to opposing candidates must contain a statement that is read by the candidate which identifies the candidate and office the candidate is seeking, and states that the candidate approved the broadcast,

3. Credit. Cash at least three businesses days in advance is required unless the order is being placed by an agent or other entity with a proven credit history with the Station [Station must have same policy for non-political advertisers]. This agent or entity must accept full responsibility for all air time and production charges.

4. Political Agreement. A completed Agreement Form for Political Broadcasts (PB-18) must accompany any time order.

5. Proof of Candidacy. The Station, at its option, may require the candidate to produce proof that he/she is a legally-qualified candidate.

6. Notice and Weekend Access. Orders must be placed at least three business days in advance of start. Copy changes or cancellations require one business day's notice. Tapes and written instructions must be delivered to the Station in advance of the scheduled air date. Deadlines for contract changes and commercial materials are: [modify as appropriate]

4pm Thursday for Monday's Log	4pm Tuesday for Thursday's Log
4pm Friday for Tuesday's Log	2pm Wednesday for Friday's Log
4pm Monday for Wednesday's Log

7. Production Facilities. The Station's production facilities will be available to produce commercials for political advertisers on the same terms as provided to commercial advertisers. On-air personalities may not voice political spots.

8. Schedules. Although the rates charged by the Station are based upon the use of 30-second spots, the Station will also try to accommodate requests for advertisements of non-standard lengths for federal candidates.
9. Make Good Policy. In the event of a missed spot, the Station will make good in the same daypart within 3 days. If time prohibits making the spot good (e.g., missed on last day before election) the Station will refund the cost of the missed spot to the purchasing entity within 10 working days.
10. Election Day Orders. Political advertising will be accepted for broadcast on election day, depending on available inventory.
11. Rebates. If a new lowest unit charge is established after a political advertiser's purchase has been made or run, the Station will rebate the overcharge to the political advertiser within 10 working days or will credit the overcharge to the candidate's future time purchases, as the candidate directs.
12. Local Public Inspection File (Political File). The rules and regulations of the FCC require that each station maintain and permit public inspection of a complete record of all requests for broadcast time made by or on behalf of a candidate for public office, together with an appropriate notation showing the disposition made by the licensee of the requests, including whether such requests were granted and the amount charged. The disposition also includes the schedule of time purchased when the spots aired, the rates charged, and the classes of time purchased. Whenever free time is provided to a candidate, a record of the free time provided is placed in the local public inspection file. This information is retained in the Station's local public inspection file for two years. The local public inspection file for the Station is maintained at the Station's studios at [insert Station studio address] and may soon be available online if the FCC adopts such requirements. Any member of the public, including opposing candidates, is entitled to inspect the materials placed in these files during regular business hours. No telephone, facsimile or mail request for local public inspection file information will be accepted.
13. Station Contact. Any of the Station's personnel will take questions and messages from candidates and their representatives, but, in order to provide maximum service to candidates and their representatives, the Station seeks to provide sales services through one and only one sales person at the Station. At the Station, actual time buys and responses to questions will be handled by [name of contact persons] who can be reached at [telephone].
14. Newscasts/ News Adjacencies. The Station permits political advertising within, and adjacent to, all the Station News programming [modify as appropriate for your station].

 - (2) Nothing in this section shall preclude the Commission from requiring that an appropriate announcement shall be made at the time of the broadcast in the case of any political program or any program involving the discussion of any controversial issue for which any films, records, transcriptions, talent, scripts, or other material or service of any kind have been furnished, without charge or at a nominal charge, directly or indirectly, as an inducement to the broadcast of such program.

Relevant Sections of the FCC's Rules Dealing with Broadcast Stations (47 CFR § _____)

§ 73.1212 Sponsorship identification; list retention; related requirements.

- (a) When a broadcast station transmits any matter for which money, service, or other valuable consideration is either directly or indirectly paid or promised to, or charged or accepted by such station, the station, at the time of the broadcast, shall announce:
 - (1) That such matter is sponsored, paid for, or furnished, either in whole or in part, and
 - (2) By whom or on whose behalf such consideration was supplied: Provided, however, That "service or other valuable consideration" shall not include any service or property furnished either without or at a nominal charge for use on, or in connection with, a broadcast unless it is so furnished in consideration for an identification of any person, product, service, trademark, or brand name beyond an identification reasonably related to the use of such service or property on the broadcast.
 - (i) For the purposes of this section, the term "sponsored" shall be deemed to have the same meaning as "paid for."
 - (ii) In the case of any television political advertisement concerning candidates for public office, the sponsor shall be identified with letters equal to or greater than four percent of the vertical picture height that air for not less than four seconds.
- (b) The licensee of each broadcast station shall exercise reasonable diligence to obtain from its employees, and from other persons with whom it deals directly in connection with any matter for broadcast, information to enable such licensee to make the announcement required by this section.
- (c) In any case where a report has been made to a broadcast station as required by section 507 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, of circumstances which would have required an announcement under this section had the consideration been received by such broadcast station, an appropriate announcement shall be made by such station.
- (d) In the case of any political broadcast matter or any broadcast matter involving the discussion of a controversial issue of public importance for which any film, record, transcription, talent, script, or other material or service of any kind is furnished, either directly or indirectly, to a station as an inducement for broadcasting such matter, an announcement shall be made both at the beginning and conclusion of such broadcast on which such material or service is used that such film, record, transcription, talent, script, or other material or service has been furnished to such station in connection with the transmission of such broadcast matter: Provided, however, That in the case of any broadcast of 5 minutes' duration or less, only one such announcement need be made either at the beginning or conclusion of the broadcast.
- (e) The announcement required by this section shall, in addition to stating the fact that the broadcast matter was sponsored, paid for or furnished, fully and fairly disclose the true identity of the person or persons, or corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group, or other entity by whom or on whose behalf such payment is made or promised, or from whom or on whose behalf such services or other valuable consideration is received, or by whom the material or services referred to in paragraph (d) of this section are furnished. Where an agent or other person or entity contracts or otherwise makes arrangements with a station on behalf of another, and such fact is known or by the exercise of reasonable diligence, as specified in paragraph (b) of this section, could be known to the station, the announcement shall disclose the identity of the person or persons or entity on whose behalf such agent is acting instead of the name of such agent. Where the material broadcast is political matter or matter involving the discussion of a controversial issue of public importance and a corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group, or other entity is paying for or furnishing the broadcast matter, the station shall, in addition to making the announcement required by this section, require that a list of the chief executive officers or members of the executive committee or of the board of directors of the corporation, committee, association or other unincorporated group, or other entity shall be made available for public inspection at the location specified under §73.3526. If the broadcast is originated by a network, the list may, instead, be retained at the headquarters office of the network or at the location where the originating station maintains its public inspection file under §73.3526. Such lists shall be kept and made available for a period of two years.

- (f) In the case of broadcast matter advertising commercial products or services, an announcement stating the sponsor's corporate or trade name, or the name of the sponsor's product, when it is clear that the mention of the name of the product constitutes a sponsorship identification, shall be deemed sufficient for the purpose of this section and only one such announcement need be made at any time during the course of the broadcast.
- (g) The announcement otherwise required by section 317 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, is waived with respect to the broadcast of "want ad" or classified advertisements sponsored by an individual. The waiver granted in this paragraph shall not extend to a classified advertisement or want ad sponsorship by any form of business enterprise, corporate or otherwise. Whenever sponsorship announcements are omitted pursuant to this paragraph, the licensee shall observe the following conditions:
 - (1) Maintain a list showing the name, address, and (where available) the telephone number of each advertiser;
 - (2) Make this list available to members of the public who have a legitimate interest in obtaining the information contained in the list. Such list must be retained for a period of two years after broadcast.
- (h) Any announcement required by section 317(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, is waived with respect to feature motion picture film produced initially and primarily for theatre exhibition.
NOTE: The waiver heretofore granted by the Commission in its Report and Order adopted November 16, 1960 (FCC 60-1369; 40 F.C.C. 95), continues to apply to programs filmed or recorded on or before June 20, 1963, when §73.654, the predecessor television rule, went into effect.
- (i) Commission interpretations in connection with the provisions of the sponsorship identification rules are contained in the Commission's Public Notice, entitled "Applicability of Sponsorship Identification Rules," dated May 6, 1963 (40 F.C.C. 141), as modified by Public Notice, dated April 21, 1975 (FCC 75-418).  - (1) He or she, or proposed delegates on his or her behalf, have qualified for the primary or Presidential preference ballot in that State, territory or the District of Columbia; or
 - (2) He or she has made a substantial showing of a bona fide candidacy for such nomination in that State, territory or the District of Columbia; except, that any such person meeting the requirements set forth in paragraphs (a)(1) and (2) of this section in at least 10 States (or 9 and the District of Columbia) shall be considered a legally qualified candidate for nomination in all States, territories and the District of Columbia for purposes of this Act.
- (f) The term “substantial showing” of a bona fide candidacy as used in paragraphs (b), (d) and (e) of this section means evidence that the person claiming to be a candidate has engaged to a substantial degree in activities commonly associated with political campaigning. Such activities normally would include making campaign speeches, distributing campaign literature, issuing press releases, maintaining a campaign committee, and establishing campaign headquarters (even though the headquarters in some instances might be the residence of the candidate or his or her campaign manager). Not all of the listed activities are necessarily required in each case to demonstrate a substantial showing, and there may be activities not listed herein which would contribute to such a showing.

§ 73.1941 Equal Opportunities.

- (a) General requirements. Except as other-wise indicated in § 73.1944, no station licensee is required to permit the use of its facilities by any legally qualified candidate for public office, but if any licensee shall permit any such candidate to use its facilities, it shall afford equal opportunities to all other candidates for that office to use such facilities. Such licensee shall have no power of censorship over the material broadcast by any such candidate. Appearance by a legally qualified candidate on any:
 - (1) Bona fide newscast;
 - (2) Bona fide news interview;
 - (3) Bona fide news documentary (if the appearance of the candidate is incidental to the presentation of the subject or subjects covered by the news documentary); or
 - (4) On-the-spot coverage of bona fide news events (including, but not limited to political conventions and activities incidental thereto) shall not be deemed to be use of broadcasting station. (section 315(a) of the Communications Act.)
- (b) Uses. As used in this section and § 73.1942, the term “use” means a candidate appearance (including by voice or picture) that is not exempt under paragraphs 73.1941 (a)(1) through (a)(4) of this section.
- (c) Timing of request. A request for equal opportunities must be submitted to the licensee within 1 week of the day on which the first prior use giving rise to the right of equal opportunities occurred: Provided, however, That where the person was not a candidate at the time of such first prior use, he or she shall submit his or her request within 1 week of the first subsequent use after he or she has become a legally qualified candidate for the office in question.
- (d) Burden of proof. A candidate requesting equal opportunities of the licensee or complaining of noncompliance to the Commission shall have the burden of proving that he or she and his or her opponent are legally qualified candidates for the same public office.
- (e) Discrimination between candidates. In making time available to candidates for public office, no licensee shall make any discrimination between candidates in practices, regulations, facilities, or services for or in connection with the service rendered pursuant to this part, or make or give any preference to any candidate for public office or subject any such candidate to any prejudice or disadvantage; nor shall any licensee make any contract or other agreement which shall have the effect of permitting any legally qualified candidate for any public office to broadcast to the exclusion of other legally qualified candidates for the same public office. § 73.1942 Candidate rates.

- (a) Charges for use of stations. The charges, if any, made for the use of any broadcasting station by any person who is a legally qualified candidate for any public office in connection with his or her campaign for nomination for election, or election, to such office shall not exceed:
 - (1) During the 45 days preceding the date of a primary or primary runoff election and during the 60 days preceding the date of a general or special election in which such person is a candidate, the lowest unit charge of the station for the same class and amount of time for the same period.
 - (i) A candidate shall be charged no more per unit than the station charges its most favored commercial advertisers for the same classes and amounts of time for the same periods. Any station practices offered to commercial advertisers that enhance the value of advertising spots must be disclosed and made available to candidates on equal terms. Such practices include but are not limited to any discount privileges that affect the value of advertising, such as bonus spots, time-sensitive make goods, preemption priorities, or any other factors that enhance the value of the announcement.
 - (ii) The Commission recognizes non-preemptible, preemptible with notice, immediately preemptible and run-of-schedule as distinct classes of time.
 - (iii) Stations may establish and define their own reasonable classes of immediately preemptible time so long as the differences between such classes are based on one or more demonstrable benefits associated with each class and are not based solely upon price or identity of the advertiser. Such demonstrable benefits include, but are not limited to, varying levels of preemption protection, scheduling flexibility, or associated privileges, such as guaranteed time-sensitive make goods. Stations may not use class distinctions to defeat the purpose of the lowest unit charge requirement. All classes must be fully disclosed and made available to candidates.
 - (iv) Stations may establish reasonable classes of preemptible with notice time so long as they clearly define all such classes, fully disclose them and make available to candidates.
 - (v) Stations may treat non-preemptible and fixed position as distinct classes of time provided that stations articulate clearly the differences between such classes, fully disclose them, and make them available to candidates.
 - (vi) Stations shall not establish a separate, premium-period class of time sold only to candidates. Stations may sell higher-priced non-preemptible or fixed time to candidates if such a class of time is made available on a bona fide basis to both candidates and commercial advertisers, and provided such class is not functionally equivalent to any lower-priced class of time sold to commercial advertisers.
 - (vii) [Reserved]
 - (viii) Lowest unit charge may be calculated on a weekly basis with respect to time that is sold on a weekly basis, such as rotations through particular programs or dayparts. Stations electing to calculate the lowest unit charge by such a method must include in that calculation all rates for all announcements scheduled in the rotation, including announcements aired under long-term advertising contracts. Stations may implement rate increases during election periods only to the extent that such increases constitute "ordinary business practices," such as seasonal program changes or changes in audience ratings.

- (ix) Stations shall review their advertising records periodically throughout the election period to determine whether compliance with this section requires that candidates receive rebates or credits. Where necessary, stations shall issue such rebates or credits promptly.
- (x) Unit rates charged as part of any package, whether individually negotiated or generally available to all advertisers, must be included in the lowest unit charge calculation for the same class and length of time in the same time period. A candidate cannot be required to purchase advertising in every program or daypart in a package as a condition for obtaining package unit rates.
- (xi) Stations are not required to include non-cash promotional merchandising incentives in lowest unit charge calculations; provided, however, that all such incentives must be offered to candidates as part of any purchases permitted by the licensee. Bonus spots, however, must be included in the calculation of the lowest unit charge calculation.
- (xii) Make goods, defined as the rescheduling of preempted advertising, shall be provided to candidates prior to election day if a station has provided a time-sensitive make good during the year preceding the pre-election periods, respectively set forth in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, to any commercial advertiser who purchased time in the same class.
- (xiii) Stations must disclose and make available to candidates any make good policies provided to commercial advertisers. If a station places a make good for any commercial advertiser or other candidate in a more valuable program or daypart, the value of such make good must be included in the calculation of the lowest unit charge for that program or daypart.
- (2) At any time other than the respective periods set forth in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, stations may charge legally qualified candidates for public office no more than the charges made for comparable use of the station by commercial advertisers. The rates, if any, charged all such candidates for the same office shall be uniform and shall not be rebated by any means, direct or indirect. A candidate shall be charged no more than the rate the station would charge for comparable commercial advertising. All discount privileges otherwise offered by a station to commercial advertisers must be disclosed and made available upon equal terms to all candidate for public office.
- (b) If a station permits a candidate to use its facilities, the station shall make all discount privileges offered to commercial advertisers, including the lowest unit charges for each class and length of time in the same time period, and all corresponding discount privileges, available upon equal terms to all candidates. This duty includes an affirmative duty to disclose to candidates information about rates, terms conditions and all value-enhancing discount privileges offered to commercial advertisers. Stations may use reasonable discretion in making the disclosure; provided, however, that the disclosure includes, at a minimum, the following information:
 - (1) A description and definition of each class of time available to commercial advertisers sufficiently complete to allow candidates to identify and understand what specific attributes differentiate each class;
 - (2) A description of the lowest unit charge and related privileges (such as priorities against preemption and make goods prior to specific deadlines) for each class of time offered to commercial advertisers;
 - (3) A description of the station's method of selling preemptible time based upon advertiser demand, commonly known as the "current selling level," with the stipulation that candidates will be able to purchase at these demand-generated rates in the same manner as commercial advertisers;
 - (4) An approximation of the likelihood of preemption for each kind of preemptible time; and

- (5) An explanation of the station's sales practices, if any, that are based on audience delivery, with the stipulation that candidates will be able to purchase this kind of time, if available to commercial advertisers.
- (c) Once disclosure is made, stations shall negotiate in good faith to actually sell time to candidates in accordance with the disclosure.
- (d) This rule (§ 73.1942) shall not apply to any station licensed for non- commercial operation.

§ 73.1943 Political File.

- (a) Every licensee shall keep and permit public inspection of a complete and orderly record (political file) of all requests for broadcast time made by or on behalf of a candidate for public office, together with an appropriate notation showing the disposition made by the licensee of such requests, and the charges made, if any, if the request is granted. The "disposition" includes the schedule of time purchased, when spots actually aired, the rates charged, and the classes of time purchased.
- (b) When free time is provided for use by or on behalf of candidates, a record of the free time provided shall be placed in the political file.
- (c) All records required by this paragraph shall be placed in the political file as soon as possible and shall be retained for a period of two years. As soon as possible means immediately absent unusual circumstances.
- (d) Location of the file. A television station licensee or applicant must post all of the contents added to its political file after the effective date of this paragraph in the political file component of its public file on the Commission's Web site. A television station must retain in its political file maintained at the station, at the location specified in §§73.3526(b) or 73.3527(b), all material required to be included in the political file and added to the file prior to the effective date of this paragraph. The online political file must be updated in the same manner as paragraph (c) of this section.

§ 73.1944 Reasonable Access.

- (a) Section 312(a)(7) of the Communications Act provides that the Commission may revoke any station license or construction permit for willful or repeated failure to allow reasonable access to, or to permit purchase of, reasonable amounts of time for the use of a broadcasting station by a legally qualified candidate for Federal elective office on behalf of his candidacy.
- (b) Weekend Access. For purposes of providing reasonable access, a licensee shall make its facilities available for use by federal candidates on the weekend before the election if the licensee has provided similar access to commercial advertisers during the year preceding the relevant election period. Licensees shall not discriminate between candidates with regard to weekend access.

[Agenda Doc. No. 06-20, March 24, 2006]

Sec. 110.11 Communications; advertising; disclaimers (52 U.S.C. 30120, formerly 2 U.S.C. 441d).

- (a) Scope. The following communications must include disclaimers, as specified in this section:
 - (1) All public communications, as defined in 11 CFR 100.26, made by a political committee; electronic mail of more than 500 substantially similar communications when sent by a political committee; and all Internet websites of political committees available to the general public.
 - (2) All public communications, as defined in 11 CFR 100.26, by any person that expressly advocate the election or defeat of a clearly identified candidate.
 - (3) All public communications, as defined in 11 CFR 100.26, by any person that solicit any contribution.
 - (4) All electioneering communications by any person.
- (b) General content requirements. A disclaimer required by paragraph (a) of this section must contain the following information:
 - (1) If the communication, including any solicitation, is paid for and authorized by a candidate, an authorized committee of a candidate, or an agent of either of the foregoing, the disclaimer must clearly state that the communication has been paid for by the authorized political committee;
 - (2) If the communication, including any solicitation, is authorized by a candidate, an authorized committee of a candidate, or an agent of either of the foregoing, but is paid for by any other person, the disclaimer must clearly state that the communication is paid for by such other person and is authorized by such candidate, authorized committee, or agent; or
 - (3) If the communication, including any solicitation, is not authorized by a candidate, authorized committee of a candidate, or an agent of either of the foregoing, the disclaimer must clearly state the full name and permanent street address, telephone number, or World Wide Web address of the person who paid for the communication, and that the communication is not authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee.
- (c) Disclaimer specifications—(1) Specifications for all disclaimers. A disclaimer required by paragraph (a) of this section must be presented in a clear and conspicuous manner, to give the reader, observer, or listener adequate notice of the identity of the person or political committee that paid for and, where required, that authorized the communication. A disclaimer is not clear and conspicuous if it is difficult to read or hear, or if the placement is easily overlooked.

- (2) Specific requirements for printed communications. In addition to the general requirement of paragraphs (b) and (c)(1) of this section, a disclaimer required by paragraph (a) of this section that appears on any printed public communication must comply with all of the following:
 - (i) The disclaimer must be of sufficient type size to be clearly readable by the recipient of the communication. A disclaimer in twelve (12)-point type size satisfies the size requirement of this paragraph (c)(2)(i) when it is used for signs, posters, flyers, newspapers, magazines, or other printed material that measure no more than twenty-four (24) inches by thirty-six (36) inches.
 - (ii) The disclaimer must be contained in a printed box set apart from the other contents of the communication.
 - (iii) The disclaimer must be printed with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the printed statement. A disclaimer satisfies the color contrast requirement of this paragraph (c)(2)(iii) if it is printed in black text on a white background or if the degree of color contrast between the background and the text of the disclaimer is no less than the color contrast between the background and the largest text used in the communication.
 - (iv) The disclaimer need not appear on the front or cover page of the communication as long as it appears within the communication, except on communications, such as billboards, that contain only a front face.
 - (v) A communication that would require a disclaimer if distributed separately, that is included in a package of materials, must contain the required disclaimer.
- (3) Specific requirements for radio and television communications authorized by candidates. In addition to the general requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c)(1) of this section, a communication that is authorized or paid for by a candidate or the authorized committee of a candidate (see paragraph (b)(1) or (b)(2) of this section) that is transmitted through radio or television, or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission, must comply with the following:
 - (i) A communication transmitted through radio must include an audio statement by the candidate that identifies the candidate and states that he or she has approved the communication; or
 - (ii) A communication transmitted through television or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission, must include a statement that identifies the candidate and states that he or she has approved the communication. The candidate shall convey the statement either:
 - (A) Through an unobscured, full-screen view of himself or herself making the statement, or
 - (B) Through a voice-over by himself or herself, accompanied by a clearly identifiable photographic or similar image of the candidate. A photographic or similar image of the candidate shall be considered clearly identified if it is at least eighty (80) percent of the vertical screen height.
 - (iii) A communication transmitted through television or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission, must also include a similar statement that must appear in clearly readable writing at the end of the television communication. To be clearly readable, this statement must meet all of the following three requirements:
 - (A) The statement must appear in letters equal to or greater than four (4) percent of the vertical picture height;
 - (B) The statement must be visible for a period of at least four (4) seconds; and

- (C) The statement must appear with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the text of the statement. A statement satisfies the color contrast requirement of this paragraph (c)(3)(iii)(C) if it is printed in black text on a white background or if the degree of color contrast between the background and the text of the statement is no less than the color contrast between the background and the largest type size used in the communication.
- (iv) The following are examples of acceptable statements that satisfy the spoken statement requirements of paragraph (c)(3) of this section with respect to a radio, television, or other broadcast, cable, or satellite communication, but they are not the only allowable statements:
 - (A) “I am [insert name of candidate], a candidate for [insert Federal office sought], and I approved this advertisement.”
 - (B) “My name is [insert name of candidate]. I am running for [insert Federal office sought], and I approved this message.”
- (4) Specific requirements for radio and television communications paid for by other persons and not authorized by a candidate. In addition to the general requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c)(1) of this section, a communication not authorized by a candidate or a candidate’s authorized committee that is transmitted through radio or television or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission, must comply with the following:
 - (i) A communication transmitted through radio or television or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission, must include the following audio statement, “XXX is responsible for the content of this advertising,” spoken clearly, with the blank to be filled in with the name of the political committee or other person paying for the communication, and the name of the connected organization, if any, of the payor unless the name of the connected organization is already provided in the “XXX is responsible” statement; and
 - (ii) A communication transmitted through television, or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission, must include the audio statement required by paragraph (c)(4)(i) of this section. That statement must be conveyed by an unobscured full-screen view of a representative of the political committee or other person making the statement, or by a representative of such political committee or other person in voice-over.
 - (iii) A communication transmitted through television or through any broadcast, cable, or satellite transmission, must also include a similar statement that must appear in clearly readable writing at the end of the communication. To be clearly readable, the statement must meet all of the following three requirements:
 - (A) The statement must appear in letters equal to or greater than four (4) percent of the vertical picture height;
 - (B) The statement must be visible for a period of at least four (4) seconds; and
 - (C) The statement must appear with a reasonable degree of color contrast between the background and the disclaimer statement. A disclaimer satisfies the color contrast requirement of this paragraph (c)(4)(iii)(C) if it is printed in black text on a white background or if the degree of color contrast between the background and the text of the disclaimer is no less than the color contrast between the background and the largest type size used in the communication.
 - (d) Coordinated party expenditures and independent expenditures by political party committees. (1)(i) For a communication paid for by a political party committee pursuant to 52 U.S.C. 30116(d), the disclaimer required by paragraph (a) of this section must identify the political party committee that makes the expenditure as the person who paid for the communication, regardless of whether the political party committee was acting in its own capacity or as the designated agent of another political party committee.

- (ii) A communication made by a political party committee pursuant to 52 U.S.C. 30116(d) and distributed prior to the date the party's candidate is nominated shall satisfy the requirements of this section if it clearly states who paid for the communication.
- (2) For purposes of this section, a communication paid for by a political party committee, other than a communication covered by paragraph (d)(1)(ii) of this section, that is being treated as a coordinated expenditure under 52 U.S.C. 30116(d) and that was made with the approval of a candidate, a candidate's authorized committee, or the agent of either shall identify the political party that paid for the communication and shall state that the communication is authorized by the candidate or candidate's authorized committee.
- (3) For a communication paid for by a political party committee that constitutes an independent expenditure under 11 CFR 100.16, the disclaimer required by this section must identify the political party committee that paid for the communication, and must state that the communication is not authorized by any candidate or candidate's authorized committee.
- (e) Exempt activities. A public communication authorized by a candidate, authorized committee, or political party committee, that qualifies as an exempt activity under 11 CFR 100.140, 100.147, 100.148, or 100.149, must comply with the disclaimer requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), (c)(1), and (c)(2) of this section, unless excepted under paragraph (f)(1) of this section, but the disclaimer does not need to state whether the communication is authorized by a candidate, or any authorized committee or agent of any candidate.
- (f) Exceptions. (1) The requirements of paragraphs (a) through (e) of this section do not apply to the following:
 - (i) Bumper stickers, pins, buttons, pens, and similar small items upon which the disclaimer cannot be conveniently printed;
 - (ii) Skywriting, water towers, wearing apparel, or other means of displaying an advertisement of such a nature that the inclusion of a disclaimer would be impracticable; or
 - (iii) Checks, receipts, and similar items of minimal value that are used for purely administrative purposes and do not contain a political message.
- (2) For purposes of this section, whenever a separate segregated fund or its connected organization solicits contributions to the fund from those persons it may solicit under the applicable provisions of 11 CFR part 114, or makes a communication to those persons, such communication shall not be considered a type of public communication and need not contain the disclaimer required by paragraphs (a) through (c) of this section.
- (g) Comparable rate for campaign purposes. (1) No person who sells space in a newspaper or magazine to a candidate, an authorized committee of a candidate, or an agent of the candidate, for use in connection with the candidate's campaign for nomination or for election, shall charge an amount for the space which exceeds the comparable rate for the space for non-campaign purposes.
- (2) For purposes of this section, comparable rate means the rate charged to a national or general rate advertiser, and shall include discount privileges usually and normally available to a national or general rate advertiser.
